Biomechanically Sound

The Resolute Strength Inner Thigh offers a foot support bar and slightly reclined seat back for stabilization and comfort as exercisers work their adductor muscles. The unique ratchet adjustment allows exercisers to set or change the start position once they are seated.

Designed to Go the Distance

Sealed bearings in all pivot points, oversized steel tubing, and chrome-plated adjustment plates make for quiet, durable operation for years to come.

Focused on the Experience

Exercisers face the shrouded weight stack tower of the Resolute Inner Thigh to provide privacy during the movement. The thigh pads are easily adjusted to accommodate entry and exit from the equipment.
